To Remember

Threat Signal

since when have you been confined to worthless state of authority? i'd rather choose a life designed for the free not owned by money and greed since when have you been so blind? been enslaved to the corporate machine i'd rather take this life into my own hands not thrust in conformity desensitized - castrate the minds of the weak the visualize - corruption, lies, and deceit

Chorus:

i will decide how to live my own life when i die - you will remember my name there's no time to throw away your pride live your life as if your last was today live your life

non step aside give us a chance to rebibe our nation suffering never wiat to decide and when the end is here to stay we'll have nothing left to say this world is lost we'll fail apart i'll die with you today
