

Shine

The Used

how long was I sleeping? did you wake me? didn't feel like all that long.
do I see the morning? no it can't be happen to me.
I've been stuck in the quicksand, more the pavement colours black and white too long
I could black out completely, but I made me, make my way back slowly.
it's my time to shine, do it my way cuz it's my time baby
it's my time to burn, start a fire, be the one and only
I said it
I meant it
I never will forget it
change never happens by itself
it's my time to burn, my time to shine.
time to make it for myself.

how long was I buried? couldn't find me, laid to rest, my heart beats on.
kept track of the symptoms, could've killed me but you will see I'm not broken, I could be. yeah you would be but my heart is much too strong never thought it was easy, but I made me, I made me slowly....
it's my time to shine, do it my way cuz it's my time baby
it's my time to burn, start a fire, be the one and only
I said it
I meant it
I never will forget it
change never happens by itself
it's my time to burn, my time to shine.
time to make it for myself.

don't be sad, I know you well. it's just the way it has to be.
I could never stay the same.
it's always high, always low, and almost never in between.
there is no one left to blame.
I can't stay.
I have to change.

it's my time to shine, do it my way. it's my time baby
it's my time to burn, start a fire, be the one and only
I said it
I meant it
I never will forget it
change never happens by itself
it's my time to burn, my time to shine.
time to make it for myself.
make a choice, shut up shut up.

do it your way, shut up shut up.
