Forever 17

Zoegirl

Never thought it would be me
Living in a shattered dream
How could this be the end for me?
What I wouldn't give to have
A life to live, a day to plan
Instead I'll be forever seventeenCould have lived out every dream
I could have been most anythingCan someone wake me up?
I haven't lived yet, I'm only seventeen
God, did You forget I'm just a baby?
And I don't wanna be, forever seventeenI'll never have a bed to make
A test to take, a summer day
I'll always be forever seventeen
I could have had a family
If things had worked out differently
Instead I'll be forever seventeenCould I have just one more day
A chance to learn from my mistakesCan someone wake me up?
I haven't lived yet, I'm only seventeen
God, did You forget I'm just a baby?
And I don't wanna be, forever seventeenIn a matter of a moment life fell before my eyes
Now I'm looking at the meaning of the miracle of life
Where are we going without even knowing
The answer's deep insideForever seventeenSo don't give up
You haven't lived yet
You're only seventeen
And God did not forget
You're just a baby
