Into the Flood

Deepfield

I wanna write your name into my flesh
I wanna be in love with myself again
I wanna bring you down
I wanna bring you down
I believe that things are changing

Where is the gain in all the hell you bring
I search for something real
Because the birds won't sing when you change this thing
So think of something else to say cause things are changing

I wanna write your name into my flesh
I wanna be in love with myself again
I wanna bring you down
I wanna bring you down
I believe that things are changing

Your hands held tight around the throat of what it is to live these days
We chew on the pain you feed into our hands
We're not gonna be here when you get back

I wanna write your name into my flesh
I wanna be in love with myself again
I wanna bring you down
I wanna bring you down
I believe that things are changing

For the best, for the best
And all the rest
Into the flood
All of me, All of me
Has to bleed
But part of me has to be out

I wanna write your name into my flesh
I wanna be in love with myself again
I wanna bring you down
I wanna bring you down
I believe that things are changing

I wanna write your name into my flesh
I wanna be in love with myself again
I wanna bring you down
I wanna bring you down
I believe that things are changing

I wanna write your name into my flesh
I wanna be in love with myself again
