

Backstabber

Disciple

Backstabber you liar, betrayer
I should've known you'd be just like your father
I know he hurt you but that's no excuse
To hurt anything and everything that touches you
Want more could you want
I was not enough
And that was evident
By the fact that You lied to me and you cheated me, repeatedly
You never loved me
I hoped in you, I believed in you, I'd forgiven you it's all for nothing
Everything I knew is dead I won't let you in again
Today is the first day of the rest of my life
I feel the new come in as I shed my skin
Today is the first day of the rest of my life
I stand on broken chains that held this better slave
Cold hearted, you hater
Love me now, so you leave me later
Deceiver, so clever
Jezebel couldn't do much better
I have nothing to remember you by
'Cause the only thing you gave to me was
You lied to me and you cheated me, repeatedly
You never loved me
I hoped in you, I believed in you, I'd forgiven you it's all for nothing
Everything I knew is dead I won't let you in again
Today is the first day of the rest of my life
I feel the new come in as I shed my skin
Today is the first day of the rest of my life
I stand on broken chains that held this better slave
God, is this what I put you through
In my unfaithfulness to you
I accuses myself
I feel the new come in as I shed my skin
Today is the first day of the rest of my life
I stand on broken chains that held this better slave
