

Shadows In Red

Sevendust

Lookin' out the window of pain
I see clearly now your face
Something so pure
Something I'm sure will be lost I'm staring at the shadows in red
Sends me chills now
I see clearly
Everything except your face I'm lonely, scared to be lonely
Thought until death meant
My fears were safe within
Now they begin To be lonely, scared of the only
Thing I knew best so I thought
I knew everything
Until now I see I'm lost and lonely Shatters everything in my head
Consumes me
Blinded by one thing
Obsessed with the need to be loved Screams become whispers instead
Assuming
I know I'm losing all the things
Closest to me I'm lonely, scared to be lonely
Thought until death meant
My fears were safe within
Now they begin To be lonely, scared of the only
Thing I knew best so I thought
I knew everything
Until now I see I'm lost and lonely Angels swirl around me
So now I know, I'm not alone Only scared to be lonely
Thought until death meant
My fears were safe within
Now they begin To be lonely, scared of the only
Thing I knew best so I thought
I knew everything
Until now I see I'm lost and lonely
