

Burn This House Down

Last In Line

Inside your reckless mind lies the heart of a liar
To the victim go the spoils in this trial of fire
An undying energy as opposites conspire
Apathetic and overdirected, your time expired
Now, lay me down, I am crowned
With a rush of blood to the head
Disavowed, life's around, when I burn
This house to the ground
But this world sells black and white
And all I see is red
But the past has come to light
With all the things we said
Misdirected, fuel injected, a reason disappears
Confusing times, not so spotless minds
Read everything so clear
Now, lay me down, I am crowned
With a rush of blood to the head
Disavowed, life's around,
When I burn this house to the ground
Burn this house to the ground
Light it up, Light it up, Light it up
To the ground
Light it up, Light it up, Light it up
So now, lay me down, I am crowned
With a rush of blood to the head
Disavowed, life's around,
When I burn this house, burn this house to the ground
To the ground
When I burn this house to the ground
Light it up, Light it up, Light it up
To the ground
Light it up, Light it up, Light it up
Life's around
Light it up, Light it up, Light it up
Burn this house to the ground
Light it up, Light it up, Light it up
