Angela

Newtown Neurotics

I can't help it, I keep falling asleep
Twelve hours of the day in bed areâ€ doingâ€ absolutely nothing forâ€ me
You work the day, I sleepâ€ away and that causes trouble at night
When I want you,â•Ÿyouâ•Ÿareâ•Ÿtoo tired andâ•ŸI am wide awake
Well, in the morning when you rise, I don't move
'Cos I've tossed and turned the night disturbing you
Oh what the hell am I supposed to do?
Oh Angela, Angela, dear Angela
You are breaking my heart
I can't afford to go out and you hate staying in
And we're both sick and tired of you paying for everything
It's an easy come, easy go, kind of life
When you both earn a wage, it broadens out your life
Who were you drinking with last night?
Oh Angela, Angela, dear Angela
You are breaking my heart
Have you heard the news, soon they'll send children down the mines
Oh what's new, they used to do that in Victorian times
Have you heard the news, youth unemployment's stable again
It's not what it seems, they're on training schemes
You are my world, I've nothing else to fill each lonely day
And in the quiet of the afternoon, I hear my life tick tock away
Well, a room can be a prison when you're kept in
You need money for everything
Durex, cigarettes, travel and booze
Angela, I swear I'm missing you
I want you, I need you
I want you, I need you
Oh Angela, Angela, dear Angela
You are breaking my heart
Come on please reply to me now
Angela, Angela, dear Angela
You are breaking my heart
