What If

Ashley Tisdale

Don't speak, I can't believe this is here happening
Our situation isn't right
Get real, who you playing with? I never thought he'd be like this
You were supposed to be there by my side
When you say that you want me I just don't believe it
You're always ready to give up and never turn around
What if I need you baby? Would you even try to save me?
Or would you find some lame excuse to never be true?
What if I said I loved you? Would you be the one to run to?
Or would you watch me walk away without a fight?
I'm so sick of worrying that you're gonna quit over anything
I could trip and you'd let go like that
I'm everything that we ever were seems so fake but not the hurt
'Cause you don't know the good things from the bad
When I say that I want you, you know that I mean it
And in my hour of weakness there's still time to try
What if I need you baby? Would you even try to save me?
Or would you find some lame excuse to never be true?
What if I said I loved you? Would you be the one to run to?
Or would you watch me walk away without a fight?
Every time I speak you try and stop me
'Cause every little thing I say is wrong
You say you're noticing but you never see
This is who I really am that you can't believe
Makes me wanna know right now
If it's me you'll live without or would you change your mind?
What if I need you?
But what if I need you baby? Would you even try to save me?
Or would you find some lame excuse to never be true?
What if I said I loved you? Would you be the one to run to?
Or would you watch me walk away without a
Oh baby what if I need you?
What if I need you? What if I need you?
What if I need you? What if I need you?
What if I need you? What if I need you?
