

Show Me

Flo Morrissey

Show me the way it used to be
Show me I want to see
I am no longer afraid of my past
I want to confront all my new tasks Show me the river where we swam
Show me the miles that we ran From ourselves
And nothing more I think I do see my life
It's so different once it's been shown in it's new light
There is no way to describe the way I feel
But for once I can hold on to something real Show me that I've become Something that is parallel to when i was young
Show me how I am today
Because I am not sure what else does remain Show me the places where we died
Show me the places that we did hide
From ourselves and nothing more I think I do see my life
It's so different once it's been shown in it's new light
There is no way to describe the way I feel
But for once I can hold on to something real But for once I can hold on to something real I am walking through my mind
Not knowing what I'll find
But don't show me, I don't want to know
Don't show me, I don't want know I need, I need
To learn to let go
I need to learn
To let go
