

Cry

Conception

You are everything I would
You are found in what I do
As the moon passes slowly by
We say our words and then we cry
A little bit 'cause we do belongThe dark seems so bright tonight
Keep me close, keep me warm
The stars cast a mellow light
Enough for a rose, a rose to be bornWho can say, if you remain my dear
Who can tell, if you will always care
But you know that I'm around to comfort you
And play the clown so you can laugh
'Cause we do belongThe dark seems so bright tonight
Keep me close, keep me warm
The stars cast a mellow light
Enough for a rose, a rose to be bornCry your tears of joy, cry a tear for you and me
And everything we areThe dark seems so bright tonight
Keep me close, keep me warm
The stars cast a mellow light
Enough for a rose, a rose to be born
