Promise Me

Straight Line Stitch

This is the last day, the last day that I sway
No longer will you dictate what I do or say
I've taken a leave of absence, I've taken a leave of the senses
Well, there's nothing in the world that could change this
I can't change this, no regrets

I'm calling on you angels of truth
Tell me that you'll never fall through
Promise me, promise me
Don't crumble like paper mache
Tell me that you'll always find your way
Promise me, promise me

This is the last day, the last day that I sway
No longer will they dictate what I do or say
Not another dying day, a part of me that's wasted away
Well, there's nothing in the world that could change this
You can't change this, no regrets

I'm calling on you angels of truth
Tell me that you'll never fall through
Promise me, promise me
Don't crumble like paper mache
Tell me that you'll always find your way
Promise me, promise me

Standing on the sidelines
Where I've been left behind
Right here on the sidelines
Waiting for the right time
And life goes by, life goes by

I'm calling on you angels of truth
Tell me that you'll never fall through
Promise me, promise me
Don't crumble like paper mache
Tell me that you'll always find your way
Promise me, promise me

This is the last day and I'll still fly

Lyrics submitted by tina.

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/