

Carry Me

Christine Wyrzten

My family has come with friends to console
And friends have been calling on the telephone.
In spite of the well-meaning words they all giv'n,
I can't help but feel that I'm standing alone.

Lord, I do have some feelings I want to confide.
I feel so alone though my friends offer smiles.
It's only Your love that can carry the hurt.
May I ask you to hold me for a few painful miles.

CHORUS

Carry me, carry me, won't You carry now?
I'm too weak and fragile to walk on my own.
I'll rest in your love 'til once more I can stand,
To journey beside You, and follow You home.
(repeat)

I've heard you, my child, and I carry you now.
For you're too weak and fragile to walk on your own.
Come rest in My love 'til once more you can stand.
To journey beside Me, and follow Me home.

Carry me, carry me, I'll follow You home.
And follow Me home.
Carry me, carry me, I'll follow You home.
And follow Me home.
(repeat 3x)

Lyrics Submitted by Fay Jacobsohn

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnllyrics.com/>