Heaven or Hell

Madcap

On a moonless night by a shadowless wall,
I sit and listen to my radio.
And I wonder tonight is it heaven or hell.For weeks at a time I'm the good guy lifes taught me.
Then it all goes south and I realize that ain't me.And the boys were shouting hey.
Because tonight we get away.
Heaven or hell is on the way, let's go!Heart will overcome.
And tonight were on the run.
I've got you, maybe that's enough.Sometimes I wonder, what's it all about.
So many times, I've paid that jukebox to explain it all,
I put my money down, hit the same track I've picked for years.
Kicking walls cause the explanations never clear.I'll make that choice no mattter what it is.
10,000 miles starts with just one step.And the boys were shouting hey.
Because tonight we get away.
Heaven or hell is on the way, let's go!Heart will overcome.
And tonight were on the run.
I've got you, maybe that's enough.
