Flashlight

Punchline

Words can make you feel like feathers
But all my friends they know you better
I know, we all know, the same excuse
It does not make it trueit's dark down there
You need a flashlight
Your artificial light will not do
I'm not looking for a fight
But you should see
A different point of view
Before these words have lost their use
And we are talking like it's too late
Is it too late?
(it was two years ago)I can't handle the situation
If I can't figure out how to steer this
Let's not speak of this ever again
And never again
As if it's in the past
Because your lies all seem to match
But the truth is you're addicted
And your friends know
Despite the lies
You swear to god they are truedon't talk about it now
Don't you know that shit will kill you?
No, can't talk about it nowit's dark down there
You need a flashlight
Yeah, it's so dark down there
You need a flashlight
Yeah, it's so dark down there
Gimme a flashlight
It's so dark down there
Gimme a flashlightyou've lost control
And we won't save you
