Back Against The Wall

Helloween

Can you see now where I stand, my friend?
Will you offer me your helping hand?
And will you cross the void and speak your words?
Rush, I'm beggin' you, it hurts, it hurts, it hurts, it hurts
I'm standing back against the wall
Dare I to move, I got to fall
My heart is blinded by the light
I close my eyes forever
May not turn left, may not turn right
I sense a gap to every side
I'm standing back against the wall
Back against the wall
Get back
Get back
I can hear it coming closer now
Blaring silence of the dark below
Under my feet, I feel it slide like sand
A frequent crushing down again, again, again and again
I'm standing back against the wall
Dare I to move, I got to fall
My heart is blinded by the light
I close my eyes forever
May not turn left, may not turn right
I sense a gap to every side
I'm standing back against the wall
Back against the wall
Will you cross the void of pride then speak the words?
Rush, I'm beggin' you, it hurts, it hurts, it hurts, yes, it hurts
I'm standing back against the wall
Dare I to move, I got to fall
My heart is blinded by the light
I close my eyes forever
May not turn left, may not turn right
I sense a gap to every side
I'm standing back against the wall
Back against the wall
Get back
Back against the wall
Get back

Get back
Back against the wall
