Victoria

The Rifles

I used to live in hope, but now that's a place down memory road.
Only our broken hearts alone remain in the towns that we used to know.The places that we knew, the baby's of boys and girls we grew.
The rivers, the lanes and the avenues, forever have changed now for me and you.Now I might be wrong, maybe I am alone, but time don't heal hearts it heals bones.(Chorus) Victoria, where did you go? The lights are still on in the street where you live but nobody's home.Give me a little more, give me a love worth fighting for.
Don't turn away, don't close your door, leaving me down here forever more.Just sing me a lullaby, watch as the tears fall from my eyes.
I'm not ashamed no I won't disguise , I send you my heart but you don't reply.Maybe I'm lost, maybe I just don't know, but all that I want is you home.(chorus)Instrumental break(Chorus) x2No where's home (x5)

Lyrics provided by
https://damnlyrics.com/