The Kovenant

United we stand in shared perversion
The love of death, the paradise of Hell
This infinite limbo, like a great black engine
Ultimate abomination, no one here gets out aliveLet the poison arrows fall
Let the pillars of heaven crumble
Martyrs to no one but ourselves
We are the rusted pillars of a better tomorrowGive me your crippled hand and I'll drag you into evolution
Compassion is obsolete, the answers are no longer true
To many sides to chose from, fascism in masked control forms
Paradise prepare for deconstructionWelcome to the radiant silos of Atom
Man made misery, the perfect anti life
Divine radiation, the corruption of flesh
Ours is the God of nuclear winterSynthesized evolution of tomorrow
When we tried to become, the world turned negative
You were the words in my mouth
When I was just trying to save their worldWelcome to the radiant silos of Atom
Man made misery, the perfect anti life
Divine radiation, the corruption of flesh
Ours is the God of nuclear winterOnce I was the carrier of wounds
Featherless and without direction, never a saint nor a Saviour
Relentless in my search for a higher existence
In a nuclear war all men will be cremated equal
