

Half Made

Paper Lights

sleep in forgetfulness of all ill watch as your arms grow weak all of time stands still forget all your mistakes and wash your spirit clean in the cool shade the world only half made gets brighter every moment your eyes fade rest in forgetfulness of all fear let all regrets live in the past mornings comfort near let your worries blow away get lighter with each breath that the wind takes
gets brighter every moment your eyes wake
