Oh God

Modern Blonde

Oh God, where are you now?
And what you gonna do
About the mess I've made?
If there was ever a soul to save
It must be me, It must be me
Dear God, oh how can I survive?
Will I make this drop this dive?
When it all comes to this
I'm looking down at the abyss
Where you don't exist, you don't exist

But if you hear me if you can see me
I know I can't be that strong
'Cause everything I ever did went wrong
Everything I ever did went wrong
Oh God, now where do I come in?
Gone and broken everything
So I hope you'll understand
If someone needed a helping hand
It must be now, it must be now
