Clear The Area

Imogen Heap

Knock, knock, are you alone?
No one?s out here and I was not followed
Love, love, you?re already home
Party?s over and you don?t look so good
You find your way back down
And I?ll keep the area clear, please clear the area
When you find your way back down in one piece
Then I?ll just be waiting here, right here
No light, mercury morning
No need to stay as it?s always nothing
But your eyes tell a whole other story
And I feel the weight of the world
Won?t talk, won?t try, just move
It?s too still in your sadness
Cry, give up, it?s okay
You?ve just got to trust me
You find your way back down
And I?ll keep the area clear, please clear the area
When you find your way back down in one piece
Then I?ll just be waiting here, right here
Slowly, darling, nobody means anymore to me than you
If you?re in, baby, then I?m in, into this with you, always Careful, close to the edge, you?re scaring me
Fall in to my arms, where did it all fall? Fall into love, love
You find your way back down
And I?ll keep the area clear, please clear the area
When you find your way back down in one piece
Then I?ll just be waiting here, right here
You find your way back down, way back down
And I?ll keep the area clear, so please clear the area
When you find your way back down in one piece
Then I?ll just be waiting here, right here
