

Where Are You Now

Honor Society

To my favorite teacher,
told me never give up.

To my fifth grade crush whom I thought I really loved.

To the guys I miss and the girls we kissed.

Where are you now?

To my ex-best friends, don't know how we grew apart.

To my favorite bands and sing-alongs in my car.

To the face I see in my memories.

Where are you now?

Where are you now? 'cause I'm thinking of you.

You showed me how,

How to live like I do .

If it wasn't for you, I would never be who I am.

To my first girlfriend I thought for sure was the one.

To my last girlfriend, sorry that I screwed it up.

To the ones I loved, but didn't show it enough.

Where are you now?

Where are you now? 'cause I'm thinking of you.

You showed me how,

how to live like I do .

If it wasn't for you, I would never be who I am

I know we'll never see those days again
and things will never be that way again,
but that's just how it goes.

People change,
but I know I won't forget you.

[ohh ohh ohh]

[ohh ohh ohh]

[ohh ohh]

To the ones who cared and who were there from the start.

To the love that left and took a piece in my heart.

To the few who'd swear I'd never go anywhere.

Where are you now?

Where are you now? 'cause I'm thinking of you.

    You showed me how,

    how to live like I do .

If it wasn't for you, I would never be who I am

If it wasn't for you, I would never be who I am

    If it wasn't for you, I'd be nothing.

Where are you now?

---

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnlrics.com/>