The Beauty and the Tragedy

Trading Yesterday

watch your step, love is broken I am every tear you cry save your breath, your heart has broken you already have my life for I am finding out that love will kill and save me taking the dreams that made me up and tearing them away

but the same love will take this heart that's barely beating
and fill it with hope beyond the stars
only love

another day, another sunrise washing over everything but in it's time, love will be mine

and tearing them away
only love
only love, love, love
