Wishing Well

Common Children

Red Rover, come over, pick clovers
Let's spend a little time away
We're learning, we're turning
We're burning our hands
Playing in the fire todayBut please don't listen
To the lies inside this place
When the monster rears its head out
Just turn and see your faceWhen the sky is torn, the feelings are reborn
Like the passing rain, this moment will fade away
And so I try to find my water all by myself
It's so dry, I won't stop to cryIndecision is killing, you're wishing You're dreaming you're measly life away
(Time is out)
Time is out, time is gone, time is in
Time has come and flown awayBut please don't listen
To the lies inside this place
When the monster sticks its head out
Just turn and slap its faceWhen the sky is torn, the feelings are reborn
And like the passing rain, this moment will fade away
And so I try to find my water all by myself
It's so dryDrinking from the wishing well
I'm fleeing from this frozen cell
I think about the people I've hurt in my life
I think about the people I've hurt in my life
Forgive me for the people I've hurt in my life
Forgive me for the people I hurtWhen the sky is torn, the feelings are reborn
And like the passing rain, this moment will fade away
And so I cannot find my water all by myself
So I wander all by myself
And I wander, I wander, I wander all by myself

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/