

Candles

Hey Monday

The power lines went out
And I am all alone
I don't really care at all
Not answering my phone All the games you played
The promises you made
Couldn't finish what you started
Only darkness still remains Lost sight, couldn't see
When it was you and me Blow the candles out
Looks like a solo tonight
I'm beginning to see the light
Blow the candles out
Looks like a solo tonight
But I think I'll be alright Been black and blue before
There's no need to explain
I am not the jaded kind
Playback's such a waste You're invisible
Invisible to me
My wish is coming true
Erase the memory of your face Lost sight, couldn't see
When it was you and me Blow the candles out
Looks like a solo tonight
I'm beginning to see the light
Blow the candles out
Looks like a solo tonight
But I think I'll be alright One day you will wake up
With nothing but, "You're sorrys"
And someday you will get back
Everything you gave me Blow the candles out
Looks like a solo tonight
I'm beginning to see the light
Blow the candles out
Looks like a solo tonight
But I think I'll be alright
