About Watches

Billy Gilman

I like wearing watches
Lots and lots of watches
For two reasons
First
If they are all set a little different
If they are all set a little different
No one's ever too late
Or too early or right on time
They just "are"
Watches, watches[Chorus:]
No one's ever too late
Or too early or right on time
They just "are"
No one's ever too late
Or too early or right on time
They just "are"
No one's ever too late
Or too early or right on time
They just "are"
They just are, they just areI like wearing watches
Lots and lots of watches
For two reasons
Second reason,
With all these watches on me
It's like having "all the time in the world"
And never having to think about the end of time
Or about dying[Repeat Chorus]With all these watches on me
It's like having "all the time in the world"
And never having to think about the end of time
Or about dying[Repeat Chorus 2x]I like wearing watches
