

Only One

Jann Arden

If I come back, if I return
If I can last my fate on this earth
Ill be baptized, Ill pray to them all
Ill lay down in the water
And drown away my faults Will you think of me then
When youre all alone?
Or when youre with your lover
And throwing her a bone Will you wish it was me
Lying in your bed
Wrapped around the covers
Underneath your breath? Only one, only one
I ever loved, ever loved
The only one, only one I ever loved Im closing my eyes
Im biting my tongue
Im really starting to wonder
Where this heartache came from Im lying on the tracks
Im hearing the train
Im praying that the
Holy Ghost will save me again Only one, only one
I ever loved, ever loved
The only one, only one I ever loved If I come back, if I find you there
Im calling on my daddy and hell kill you, I swear
Hell leave you in parts all over the ground
Then there you will stay never to be found Only one, only one
I ever loved, ever loved
The only one, only one I ever loved Only one, only one
I ever loved, ever loved
The only one, only one I ever loved The only one, only one
Was I enough? No
