

Splatterheads

I heard a distant early warning
 But I chose to ignore it
 It came back and bit me
 Seems like we're victims of bad timing
 'Cause you wanted more than I did
 I can't give you what you need
 She said, "Hold me, hold me
 Closely, closely"
 That's when I should have ran
 321, it's the final meltdown, I want out now
 I wish I would've known to doubt you
 I'm better off alone without you
 321, it's the same old story, love gets gory
 Why'd we have to go and change things?
 Now touching you is such a strange thing
 I got so caught up in the moment
 That I forgot what it all meant
 But still I'd do it all again
 You said, "No strings attached, I'm wild"
 I didn't know you're in denial
 And you became my ball and chain
 She said, "Hold me, hold me
 Closely, closely"
 That's when I should have ran
 321, it's the final meltdown, I want out now
 I wish I would've known to doubt you
 I'm better off alone without you
 321, it's the same old story, love gets gory
 Why'd we have to go and change things?
 Now touching you is such a strange thing
 She said, "Hold me, hold me, closely, closely
 Hold me, hold me, closely, closely?
 That's when I should have run, run, run, run
 321, it's the final meltdown, I want out now
 I wish I would've known to doubt you
 I'm better off alone without you
 321, it's the same old story, love gets gory
 Why'd we have to go and change things?
 Now touching you is such a strange thing

She's holding on while she can
Why'd we have to go and change things?
She's holding on while she can
Now touching you is such a strange thing
She's so out of hand
I'm dreading all the baggage and what it brings
She's so out of hand
But still I'd do it all again
