Would I

Randy Travis

Would I, would I, would I
Would I go out honky tonkin' with you ever ynight
Dance every, dance til I got 'em all right
Would I do every step the way you thought I should?
If I had you baby, maybe, yes I wouldWould I, would I wake up every morning
Bring you breakfast in bed?
With the right amount of butter on your toasted bread
Would I fix your brunch, lunch and dinner just as good?
If I had you baby, maybe, yes I wouldWell, if I had you
There'd be nothing you could do or say
To ever make me, make you go away
Would I, would I, would IWould I cut my hair and change the way I dressed?
And finally get around to cleaning up this mess?
Would I happily give up my bachelorhood?
If I had you baby, maybe, yes I wouldWould I, would I tear everybody from my little black book?
Tell 'em all I was over the urge to look
Would I marry you then just to make sure they understood?
If I had you baby, maybe, yes I wouldWell, if I had you
There'd be nothing you could do or say
To ever make me make you go away
Would I, would I, would I
If I had you baby, maybe, yes, yes, I would
