Cravings Of The Heart

Alove for Enemies

How shallow have we become?
Wrapped up in pointless strife Watching each other with this disgust and selfish pride, waiting and hoping for our brothers to fall What's happened to make us fade, what happened to make us this way Lord take our wounded wings away, we are not worthy of your grace, shameful hearts and jealous tongues are breaking your heart, breaking your heart again It's time to make this right
It's time to set this ablaze
It's time to make a difference,
It's time to make a change, pick up these broken Pieces and get back to our faith
Lord take our wounded wings away, we are not worthy of your grace, shameful hearts and jealous tongues are breaking your heart, breaking your heart again
United by faith we will not fall away United by faith, we will not fall
