

I'm the Girl

Heather Nova

I've got a memory, a thousand years old
And I know secrets, I've never been told
And I've got jewels, I haven't found
And they'll return me to the ground I'm the girl, I'm the girl, I'm the girl
You know me
I'm the girl, I'm the girl, I'm the girl
You know me And I'm a Siren, I'll wreck you on my shores
And I'm Godiva, I'll call you back for more
And I'm Medusa and I'm your favorite doll
And I'm a Georgia O'Keefe hangin' on your wall I'm the girl, I'm the girl, I'm the girl
You know me
I'm the girl, I'm the girl, I'm the girl
You know me I'm a Joan of Arc
I'm the girl next door
I'm the mother and the daughter
Of the mother and the daughter before And I remember being born just sound and light
And sound and light and light
And I remember the first time, skin on skin, yeah
In the arms of the night Well how many times have we looked up into the starry skies
And how many times have we felt the passion rise
Every ruby lipped girl baby, old lady, squaw junkie
Girl after girl, after girl
Every muse, whore, good witch, princess, back archin'
Year after year, after year I'm the girl, I'm the girl, I'm the girl
You know me
I'm the girl, I'm the girl, I'm the girl
You know me I'm a Joan of Arc
I'm the girl next door
I'm the mother and the daughter
Of the mother and the daughter
The mother and the daughter
Of the mother and the daughter
The mother and the daughter
Of the mother and the daughter before [Incomprehensible]
I'm the girl, I'm the girl, I'm the girl
[Inaudible]

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>