

Disappear

Dream Theater

Why, tell me the reasons why
Try, still I don't understand
Will I ever feel this again?
Blue sky, I'll meet you in the end
Free them, free the memories of you
Free me and rest 'til I'm with you
A day like today my whole world has been changed
Nothing you say will help ease my pain
Turn, I'll turn this slowly 'round
Burn, burn to feel alive again
She, she'd want me to move on
See me, this place I still belong
Give chase to find more than I have found
And face this time now on my own
Days disappear and my world keeps changing
I feel you here and it keeps me sane
So I'm moving on, I'll never forget
As you lay there and watched me
Accepting the end, I knew you were scared
You were strong, I was trying
I gave you my hand, I said it's okay
Letting go, time to leave here
And I'll carry on the best that I can without you here beside me
Let him come take you home
