

The Twist

Frightened Rabbit

Do the twist in the twisting outfit
The loose tie with the loose limp wrists
Lift your dress enough to show me those shins
Let your hair stick to your forehead
Did you blush then when our hips touched?
I can't tell, you're already red
Am I right? You give me the signs
Is that pink mist or just lit dry ice
You twist and whisper the wrong name
I don't care nor do my ears
Twist yourself around me
I need company, I need human heat
I need human heat
Let's pretend I'm attractive and then
You won't mind, you can twist for a while
It's the night, I can be who you like
And I'll quietly leave before it gets light
So twist and whisper the wrong name
I don't care nor do my ears
Twist yourself around me
I need company, I need human heat
I need human heat
I need human heat
I need human heat
I need
Twist and whisper the right name
I'm David, please
Twist as if you're just like me
You need company, you need human heat
You need human heat
