Mosquito

Ingrid Michaelson

Mosquito, mosquito, buzzing around
Landing on my knee
How can I truly be angry with you?
All you want is to be part of me
Now we are lying and counting the leaves
Underneath our tree
How can I truly be angry with you?
All you want is to be part of me
You love like no human could
You love like no human should
Poison, the poison, I taste on your lips
Makes the apple red
Wouldn't you love if I fell like Snow White
Slumbered in your bed?
You love like no human could
You love like no human should
You love like no human could
You love like no human should
Are you poison?
Are you poison?
Are you poisoning me?
Are you poison?
Are you poison?
Are you poisoning me?
Are you poison?
Are you poison?
Are you poisoning me?
How can I truly be mad
When all that you want is to be
When all that you want is to be
Part of me, me, me?
