All Hype

Longpigs

And I am living without the love of Jesus in my eyes
It's easier to swallow than collide
The way above the lows and sold your highs
(It's all hype)When suddenly they strip it when you try
(It's all hype)
I still don't get the joke but never mind
It's all hype, all hypeBut you're gonna fall down
Yeah, you're gonna fall down
And you're gonna be round
And you're gonna seeThat I am leaving the light of baby Jesus far behind
For one with history leaking from her eyes
As always things get tense when things are taught
Twisted and distortBut you're gonna fall down
Yeah, you're gonna fall down
And you're gonna be 'round
And you're gonna seeAnd on for heaven's sake
I needed you today
And never having been
The countrysides obsceneI understood the part
But only only one
You've given up the choice
Why don't she dig my voice?And I believe in the biggest touted answer to the lie
But always when it's caught you in the eyes
'Cos usually it is that I don't mind
It's all hype, it's all hype
