

New Breed

Hammerfall

We saw the lights go down
The falling of the crown
The infidels, dethroned
Climbing up from their darkened abode
Your pious words won't mend
You're not from heaven sent
You're holier-than-thou
To the swords, to the guns, we must go
And so here we stand
We're the soldiers of the promised land
We are here, so please leave us be
We're fighting to live to be free
New breed, old breed
We are all the same breed
Heavy Metal running through our veins
You say we are the same
But, who you are to blame?
Our mighty swords won't rust
When your hearts made of stone turns to dust
You're not the chosen ones
You're second to the guns
Your deeds are bound to fail
Better find you own path, your own trail
And so here we stand
We're the brethren of the promised land
We are free, to follow our dreams
Protecting our lives, by all means
New breed, old breed
We are all the same breed
Heavy Metal running through our veins
New breed, old breed
We are all the same breed
Heavy Metal running through our veins
Warriors - Hold your heads high
Glorious - High in the sky
The fire burns - Deep down inside
Glory for us, nothing for thee
New breed, old breed
We are all the same breed
Heavy Metal running through our veins
New breed, old breed
We are all the same breed
Heavy Metal running through our Running through our veins
