

Waves

Magic Man

Hey

What the hell was on your mind that day?
I heard the wind outside your father's car and felt the weight of life.

Now I try get inside your head some how
The storm is coming and it might get loud
So listen while you can...

I know you can

Roll down the windows
The sun will play along
We'll forget the difference between right and wrong
I feel the summer, the light we grew up with with We'll forget the past dear, and learn to live for this

Hey remember what i said before the waves came crashing down and turned us inside out the oceans something else

Will you ever change the way you feeling when you rearrange the little pieces of your life you keep so close to your chest
well i know you can

Well i know you can...

---

Lyrics submitted by Dude Collins.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>