All For You

Keith Urban

Last night I fell asleep
And I saw you dancing in my dreams
Just like the autumn leaves
Have fallen for you, all for you
You changed my life
You changed my ways
I don't even recognize myself these days
It must be a reflection of you, only you, oh
I can't remember feeling love like this in so long
I can't imagine living life without you by my side
Day after day you find a way to make this grown man cry
It's so true, I'm all for you
My arms still hold you tight
Keep you warm in the coldest night
My hand would pull your hair
Right back away from your eyes for you, only you, yeah
If I knew just how to do it
I'd hang the moon, the stars around you
Paint the perfect kind of sunset
But I couldn't make it more beautiful than you
Oh, nothing compares to you, you know it's true
And I can't remember feeling love like this in so long
I can't imagine living life without you by my side
Day after day you find a way to make this grown man cry
It's so true, I'm all for you, oh, I'm all for you
Yeah, yeah, yeah
I can't remember feeling love like this in so long
I can't imagine living life without you by my side
Day after day you find a way to make this grown man cry
Some might call it insanity
Without a doubt for the rest of my life
I'm gonna be crazy, baby, crazy for you
All for you, yeah, I'm all for you
