The Only Conclusion

Jamie Lawson

I've been walking these streets
In the finest of rain
I'm soaked to the bone
Under your window pane
I've counted the moths
That are drawn to your bedroom light
I've wept with an owl
As its beauty took flight
I think I may have figured out why
Finally found the very reason
For all this confusion the only conclusion is love
I have surrendered each nerve
From my crown to my soul
Though I barely deserve
All of these secrets I hold
I've resisted the urge
To tell the whole world
For what news is a boy
In love with a girl
I think I may have figured out why
Finally found the very reason
For all this confusion
The only conclusion is love
Love
It must be
Love
Love
For all this confusion the only conclusion is love
Yeah
I've done all the maths
And it all adds up to us
It's you and me (repeat 8x)
