Skin

Spock's Beard

Like a star with a blue moon rising You complain but you keep surprising yourself

Like a dog who's been kicked all over

You tried to quit but you can't stop kicking yourselfIt's the truth, it's a lie, love will never dieDon't you see it's like tryin' to climb out of your skin

You're like a butterfly fighting the wind

Don't you see it's like tryin' to climb out of your skinYou shut down tried to not be special

Lights were off but someone's always been home

May as well not resist temptation

Plug yourself in the wall and light up the townTime is up, it's alive, take this dream and driveDon't you see it's like tryin' to climb out of your skin

You're like a butterfly fighting the wind

Don't you see it's like tryin' to climb out of your skinClimb way up to the ground, slide on up and slide downIt's the truth, it's a lie love will never die

It's the best you can buy might be worth a try

Make a wish take a dive don't just stay alive

You'll do more than survive take this dream and driveDon't you see it's like tryin' to climb out of your skin

You're like a butterfly fighting the wind

Don't you see it's like tryin' to climb out of your skin

You're like a butterfly fighting the windDon't you see it's like tryin' to climb out of your skin

You're like a butterfly fighting the wind

Don't you see it's like tryin' to climb out of your skin

You're like a butterfly fighting the windOut of your skin

Out of your skin

Out of your skin

Out of your skin
