When I Get Over You

Lisa McHugh

seems like i'm seeing you now more than ever before our time together hasen't seen bad weather since you walked out my door but your not taking my calls and your not looking my way i feel so silly when i walk past the deli this is what i'd wanna sayyou're not the only one that's got me on her mind a lot of other girls wanna treat me like that so you better get in linebut it's not true it's not cruel it'll be so cool when i get over youi'm not hurt i'm just taking my time and thinking about revenge so go ahead and laugh as i'm limping on past with all your little friends i'm not crying there's no tear in my eye i'm not giving you the joy of knowing i mean thinking that you crushed the heart of a stupid little boy
