Stay Forever

Hal Ketchum

Maybe, I pray too much, maybe, I'm wastin' God's time
Livin' without your touch is driving me out of my mind
If you could only see how much you matter to me
Maybe, you would stay foreverMaybe, I care too much, maybe, I'll push you away
Maybe, I'd have my doubts if I were in your place
And if you could see inside, this achin' heart of mine
Maybe, you would stay foreverYou don't have to go on livin'
With your back against the wall
Let my lovin' arms surround you
I won't let you fallIf you would trust in me and this love of mine
We'll sail an endless sea under a starry sky
And when the cold wind blows, we'll hold each other close
Maybe, you will stay forever
