Embrace the Crimson Tide

Elf Power

When the captain pulls you under
Trees uproot begin to wander
Leaves they grew like sons and daughters
Resting deep beneath the water
Seashells whisper songs to float me
I don't need no boat to row me
There's no path for you to follow
Drift your way right though tomorrow
There's no need to run no need to hide
All at once embrace the crimson tide

Do Da Do's

Oh I hear those sirens calling
Waves are rolling rocks are falling
When you feel that magic motion
Feed yourself into the ocean
There's no need to run no need to hide
All at once embrace the crimson tide

Do Da Do's
