Goodbye Summer (with f[Amber+Luna+Krystal])

f(x)

I remember when we were yelled at for talking in the halls
I don't know why it was so fun even when we were being punished
After that day (yeah yeah) we always (yeah yeah)
Stuck together like the Astro twins, you were me and I was youYou cried so much on the day before graduation
You held it in firmly since you're a guy
Just like that hot summer when we couldn't say what we wanted, goodbyeThe friend label is a label that I got to hate
The feelings I've hidden still remain as a painful secret memory
The photos that can't define our relationship is a heartbreaking story
I'm sorry, summer, now goodbye, yeahWhat do I say, we didn't have to play no games
I should've took that chance, I should've asked for you to stay
And it gets me down the unsaid words that still remain
The story ended without even startingYour song on the last day of the school festival, the flickering summer sea
Our feelings that were precious because we were together
Like the deepening night sky, goodbyeThe friend label is a label that I got to hate
The feelings I've hid still remain as a painful secret memory
The photos that can't define our relationship is a heartbreaking story
I'm sorry, summer, now goodbye, yeahBaby oh no oh oh
I'm sorry that this is a monologue
Oh, actually, I love you, yeah
If only our long-time hidden secrets were revealed
I would hold you in my armsThe friend label is a label that I got to hate
The feelings I've hid still remain as a painful secret memory
The photos that can't define our relationship is a heartbreaking story
I'm sorry, summer, now goodbye, yeahThe friend label is a label that I got to hate
A heartbreaking story, I'm sorry, summer, now goodbye, yeah
