Me

Staind

I hear you talk about your family life
I wish I knew just what that means
I guess my mother never loved my dad
And now I wear it on my sleeveMy sister called me just the other day
It felt so good to hear her voice
My problem is I don't have much to say
I guess she doesn't have a choice and I'm sorryLook at me I'm so pathetic
I can't believe I'm just an addict
I've never needed anyone to help me
I'm begginCause now she seems so fake to me but I love herLook at me I'm so pathetic
I can't believe I'm just an addict
I've never needed anyone to help me
I'm begging you to please come save me from myself, save me from myselfIf you push me then I won't fall
I've been programmed to take it all
And shove it way down insideLike my father
Like my fatherI'm so pathetic
I can't believe I'm just an addict
I've never needed anyone to help me (I'm failing it)
I'm begging you to please come save me from myselfI hear you talk about your family life
I wish I knew just what that means
