

The One with the Villain (feat. Chris Batson)

Marty

Blame it all on me
I guess it only makes sense
Blame it all on me
I guess it's only right that you do
And man, I gave my all, but hey, that's not important
I gave you my all, but man who cares anyway?

Aye, I'll be the bad guy, the villain
I've been a bad guy, the villain
But only if that's what you feelin'
The bad guy, the villain
Yes, I'm the bad guy, the villain
But only if that's what you feelin'
The bad guy, the villain
Yeah, yeah
I guess I'm the bad guy, the villain
Yeah, yeah

Still undecided
Me and my homies are still undivided
Labels keep tellin' us this for so long, "If you're makin' dope music there's no way to hide it"
God Almighty tellin' me what to do
Rappers can't planinn' on our team'll lose
Dream about heaven and seein' my grandmother too
Livin' the life that I choose
Workin' in suits never suited me too
Trustin' in God always left me confused
They call me villain, I feel like it's true
Can't talk about God, I can't share my views
All of these rappers are all not your friends
You can do good, just not better than them
I am the villain
They only like me as long as I make all the songs that they feelin'

This ain't for radio, this is for us
Walkin' through hell and I never was touched
Never been perfect, no halo on top
Without His grace I'd be livin' a lie
They talk about me like I'm not around

I remember the times when I would talk to God
And I told Him, "Whatever, you wanna be down?"
I shoulda drowned, I am the villain
Now put on the crown, but He died for the villain
Yeah, cause I'm still the villain
And the world does not love me
Cause I'm not one of them now
