

The Horse Song

Iggy Pop

I never saw you before
I never sound strained before
Now I'm at your door and I hope you're unusual
Very unusual now I'm at your door And when you nicely ask me in
I'm staring at your shoes
And I don't wonder why
I feel like a horse We can stray out on the open range
Missing me every day
With its hidden claws
Spring snow And when you brush me
Brush me with your eyes
I think you've noticed that
I don't want to be a bad guy anymore I never saw you before
But you're unusual
And now I'm at your door
I feel safe and warm I feel, I feel, I feel, I feel
Like a horse
Ha ha ha ha
What's this?
