Enlightened By The Cold

Shadows Fall

When you never know Is when it's always there It seemed so clearThe slightest touch To catch the breath It turns it all aroundSingle path that I can see Emptiness devours meEnlightened by the cold It overcomes the torment (What if I could bring you back?) Enlightened by the coldEnough to burn through walls Built on anguish Can I be revived?Let it hit with force Strong enough to blind The numbness healsSingle path that I can see Emptiness devours meEnlightened by the cold It overcomes the torment (What if I could bring you back?) Enlightened by the coldMy worth is only defined By the nest disasterWhen you never know Is when it's always there It seemed so clearThe slightest touch To catch the breath It turns it all aroundSingle path that I can see Emptiness devours meEnlightened by the cold It overcomes the torment (What if I could bring you back?) Enlightened by the coldMy worth is only defined By the nest disaster By the nest disaster
