The Eleventh Hour by 22 Jacks

Verse 1;

She is crawling back to me, but only in my dreams
Back in reality she's done her best to shake me
Alone and insecure, i wonder if they found a cure
A way that i could make her change her mind

Chorus; But in the Eleventh Hour i realise it just takes time

Verse 2;

Tears that shatter on the floor, i don't know who they're for
I don't know just for who those tears i cry
Stand around an empty room, discover just how soon
How soon the sun can fall out of the sky

Chorus; But in the Eleventh Hour i realise it just takes time
And in the Eleventh Hour i realise that i feel fine

I know sometimes things must be said, they go unspoken
I know sometimes things must be said, and so I'm broken

Repeat Verse 1 and Chorus

She done her best to shake me x2
But in the Eleventh Hour
