

How Old Are You?

Robin Gibb

Driving my car
We stop for a while
It's getting so late
And you're sending me wild I know that it's madness
But oh-oh-oh-oh
I'm scared, oh so scared Taking my hand
Try to settle down
We won't say a word till it's over And your eyes are so inviting
I know that if we stay
I'll never take you home You say you were seventeen
But you are somewhere in-between
That leads me on
How old are you? Oh-oh, oh-oh
Ran away to open arms
You're just a girl with woman's charms
That turns me on
How old are you? Oh-oh, oh-oh You've been busy lying You've made it up to now
I'm caught up in the heat of the moment Love me and then leave me
It's the story of my life
And I won't be in the morning
The man I am tonight So, little girl
Please try to understand
You mean more to me
Than a one-night stand I'm losing all resistance
My head has lost control
It's wrong, oh so wrong Deep in the night
Shadows all around
Lost in the magic forever And I know that when you touch me
My heart won't let me down
I'm scared, oh so scared You say you were seventeen
But you are somewhere in-between
That leads me on
How old are you? Oh-oh, oh-oh
Ran away to open arms
You're just a girl with woman's charms
That turns me on
How old are you? Oh-oh, oh-oh Fighting all temptation
I've made it up to now

I'm caught up in the heat of the moment
Love me and then leave me

It's the story of my life

And I won't be in the morning

The man I am tonight
You say you were seventeen

But you are somewhere in-between

That leads me on

How old are you? Oh-oh, oh-oh

Ran away to open arms

You're just a girl with woman's charms

That turns me on

How old are you? Oh-oh, oh-oh [Incomprehensible]

It's hard for me

How old are you? Oh-oh, oh-oh
You say you were seventeen

But you are somewhere in-between

That leads me on

How old are you? Oh-oh, oh-oh

Ran away to open arms
